We improve living environments and natural habitats.

A cultural and industrial evolution in progress for five generations.

The Fantoni Group (founded by Achille Fantoni in 1882) is a leader in the production of office furniture, sound-absorbent systems, radiant sound-absorbent systems, partition and storage walls, MDF and chipboard panels, laminates. All stages of the production process are completed within the network of companies belonging to the Group, which all operate synergically to develop their products: from the production of materials and semi-finished products, to the creation of innovative office furnishing systems that draw their inspiration from the latest principles of wellbeing and design.

From energy to materials, from the design to the products: an integrated cycle.

Comprising seven companies, Fantoni produces its own resins; impregnates the paper to face its panels, and thanks to its hydroelectric power stations and cogeneration systems, it also contributes significantly to its own power needs.

Fantoni Group has become a reference point within the design sector, due to the intense activity of its Research Centre: workshops, conferences and publications are expressions of the commitment that has made it a hub for experimentation and research.

Total well-being in the work place.

Since 1882, architecture, research and total design have been the guiding principles for company growth, and for the development of increasingly-innovative products dedicated to the well-being of the people who use them. The acoustic division is committed to realising sound-deadening systems which improve the quality of the sound by eliminating the excess of noise inside public areas such as theatres, offices, restaurants, music halls, shopping malls etc. Fantoni is a recognised key player in the design world. Its research in the area of design primario, which received a "Compasso d'Oro" lifetime achievement award in 1998, continues to explore many idioms and perspectives, with the aim of creating increasingly complete furnishing and architectural solutions.
